BIBLE CONFERENCE

Hinton, W. Va.—Ideals of service and the enthusiasm of youth were predominant forces in the success of the second annual Young Peoples' Conference of Greenbrier Presbytery, which was held in the First Baptist Church of Hinton, West Virginia, a few weeks since.

Sixty-one young people, who came as representatives from seventeen churches in the Presbytery, were present at the opening session of the conference. After a brief song service followed by scripture reading and prayer, three most interesting and helpful addresses were given by leaders in the Presbyterian Church on subjects vitally related to young people's work. The speakers and subjects were as follows: Rev. T. P. Allen, Synodical Manager, on "The Relation of the Young People to the Presbyterian Progressive Campaign"; Rev. R. L. Kincaid, on "Training for Service"; Miss Nancy F. White, Field Worker for Sunday Schools and Young People's Work, on "What are your Plans?" The young people themselves took charge of the other numbers on the program which consisted of reports of delegates from the churches on "What We are doing in Organized Classes, Departmental Organization and Christian Endeavor." The leaders felt that the manner in which these and other talks were given revealed unusual gifts of leadership among the young people of the church. The Question Box gave an opportunity for questions in regard to any phase of young people's work and many helpful suggestions were received.

At 6:30 Friday evening the second session of the conference opened with a banquet at which Mr. Harvey H. Orr presided as toastmaster. Hinton and Alderson sent the largest number of representatives who were delighted to find that visitors as well as delegates could attend the banquet. A delightful four course dinner was served amidst songs and yells as each delegation vied with the other for first place. Special mention was made of the originality and cleverness of the songs and yells.

At the conclusion of the banquet Miss Kate Johnson gave an interesting talk on "Some Real Experiences" of her Home Mission work near Beckley, West Virginia, followed by Rev. B. F. Spewer's stereotyped views of the conferences held last year at Madison, West Virginia, and Montreat, North Carolina. These slides aroused much enthusiasm and created a desire to attend the conference to be held this year at Lewisburg, West Virginia, June 13-20. A brief business meeting was necessary for the election of officers at this time. Mr. James Pinkney of Beckley, was made president, and Miss Virginia Miller of Alderson, was made secretary for the coming year. The meeting closed with an unusually interesting address on "God's Grammar" by Mrs. Hazen Smith, Life Work Secretary under Dr. Henry Sweets.

Mr. Pinkney presided at the closing service of the conference which was held on Saturday morning. All who were present found inspiration in three excellent talks given by representative of young people on "Relation of Young Peoples to the Church." The speakers were Miss Virginia Miller, of Alderson; Mr. Frank Hutchison, of Reineverte and Miss Florence McClung, of Sinks Grove. Dr. Armstrong brought a message for everyone in "How Can I Best Serve Jesus?" Mrs. Hazen Smith very forcefully presented the church problem as influenced by our American ideals and the conference closed with an address by Mrs. R. F. Dunlap on "The Rungs of the Ladder of Service," which beautifully summed up our conference ideals.

Each one present returned home with new inspiration, enthusiasm and with a determination to make their young peoples work count for more for the service of the Master. Each one present also wishes to thank Mrs. Johnson, Mr. Orr and all those whose efforts gave them two delightful days and they wish especially to express their appreciation of the warm hospitality of the Hinton people and of their cooperation in making the second Young Peoples' Conference a success in every way.

AZIMUTH LINE

In the year 1921, Mr. C. R. Fisher of the United States Geological Survey, with the assistance of Mr. Ed Moore and others, established a line in the Town of Marlinton, Pocahontas County, West Virginia, to test their compasses. The northern monument will be found at the abutment of the county bridge across Greenbrier river, and the southern end something like 1700 feet distant.

Mr. Fisher gives the azimuth of the line to be 211 degrees, 56 minutes, 57 seconds from the south end to the north end, and from the south end to the center of the tannery smoke stack, 216 degrees, 59 minutes, 2 seconds.

Equivalent to N 31 degrees, 56 minutes, 57 seconds E and N 36 degrees, 59 minutes, 2 seconds E respectively.

April 14, 1922.
ANDREW PRICE,
State of West Virginia,
County of Pocahontas, to-wit:

I, P. T. Ward, a notary of said county do certify that Andrew Price whose name is signed to the writing above-bearing date on the 14th day of April, 1922, has this day acknowledged the same before me in my said county.

Given under my hand this 22nd day of April, 1922.
P. T. WARD, Notary Public.
My commission expires Jan. 8, 1928.

Surveyors will note that the above information in regard to this meridian line has been recorded in the office of the clerk of the county court of Pocahontas County, in the Miscellaneous Record book number one at page 21, for the purpose of insuring it against being lost.

SHARP JOHNSON

Married, Jacob W. Sharp and Mrs. Birdie Lee Johnson, on Wednesday, April 26, 1922, Rev. H. H. Orr officiating at the Manse, Marlinton.

60TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On Monday, October 24, 1921, the 60th wedding anniversary of Thomas Claiborne and Mary Staats Hill was celebrated at their home in Jackson township by about 215 relatives and neighbors. About 10 o'clock the first arrivals appeared at the home and from that time until noon they came continuously, each one bringing a supply of good things to eat. These were placed on a table 70 feet long that had been erected in the yard, and all participated in a feast that would satisfy the most delicate taste or gorgeous appetite. A fancy wedding cake had been prepared by "Betsy" Correll that was admired and enjoyed by all.

Thomas Claiborne Hill was born in Pocahontas county, W. Va., October 1, 1835, and spent his boyhood days there. He went to Boone county, W. Va., when about 17 years old where he met his future wife, Miss Mary Staats. She was born at Terre Haute, Indiana, June 5, 1844. When three years of age her parents moved to West Virginia, where she grew to womanhood. The two were united in marriage October 24, 1861, by Rev. Archie Thomas, a Methodist minister. The first three years of their married life was spent near West Columbia, W. Va. Then they decided to go west and build their home. The mode of traveling was different then to what it is at present, so they started down the Ohio river on a steamboat, following down this stream to its mouth, then up the Mississippi to Hannibal, Mo., then by rail to Laclede, Mo. The rest of the journey was made with wagons and teams, there being no railroads in this part of Missouri at that time. It took ten days to make the trip. They arrived near the site of their present home the day before Abraham Lincoln was elected president the second time. While here they stood in their door and watched John Hunt Morgan's band surrender. The gunboat came down the river, stop and kept Morgan and his band from crossing, while the soldiers came up behind them and they had to surrender. Morgan and a very few of his men made their escape. The Civil War had not closed and the boat they started on was reported sunk as it was going down the Ohio, causing the folks back home much uneasiness until they received a letter informing them the trip to Missouri had been safely made.

They started housekeeping in a one room log house. This house had one door, no windows, a large fire place and was covered with clapboards weighted down with logs. This served as a residence about six years, when it was replaced by the present building. During the first years in their new home they endured many hardships incident to the life of the early pioneer.

Their union has been blessed with eight children, as follows: Mrs. H. P. Bruce, Alva, Okla.; Geo. A. Hill, Chillicothe, Mo.; Joseph S. Hill (deceased) Mrs. S. S. Quinn, Hopeton, Okla.; John F. Hill, Humphreys, Mo.; Fred F. Hill, Pollock, Mo.; Mrs. C. N. Bruce, Lucerne, Mo.; Theodore, (deceased); twenty-three grandchildren (four deceased) and 20 great grandchildren (two deceased).

All the surviving children, twelve grand children, three great grandchildren, and J. F. Hill, brother of T. C. Hill, were present at the occasion.

These two brothers were distinguished as being the oldest persons attending the celebration. J. F. Hill being 88 and his brother 86.

Some beautiful presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Hill, namely: two willow rockers by the children; smoked water set, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Staats, Ottumwa, Iowa; two dollars, Mr. and Mrs. William Garrin, Ottumwa, Iowa; German silver souvenir plate, Chas. Bockenkamp, Washington, D. C.; aluminum percolator, Henry Chester and Mary Alexander, Alva, Okla.; butter paddle, Mrs. Sarah Staats, Ottumwa, Iowa.—G. A. Hill.

The above is from a Missouri paper, and was kindly sent us by I. N. Clutter, of Lobelia. Thomas Claiborne Hill has two half brothers still living at Lobelia. They are A. D. W. Hill and Joel R. Hill. The late Isaac Hill, a Confederate veteran, who died seven or eight years ago, was another brother.

WEST UNION

The health of the community is very good at this time.

Porter Sharp of Warwick, has moved on his farm, the W. G. Cochran place.

Frank Beverage and family were visiting relatives near Warwick a few days ago.

Frank Jordan has commenced a large job of cutting and skidding here, which timber he and John Galford purchased about 2 years ago.

Mr. Galford has had a very severe case of bone crystals and has been confined to his room most all the time since last October.

Charles Galford who has purchased a large saw mill from E. H. Williams will do the sawing.

W. H. Gilmore was at Marlinton on business recently.

Lanty Gilmore was visiting his cousin, Wilburn Gilmore at Woodrow recently.

Our Sunday School is increasing in attendance and interest also. We were visited recently by our District President, Mr. Brill who gave us a good talk on Sunday School work. He was accompanied by J. Luther McNeil of Marlinton.

Miss Anne Correll, of Wolf Creek, is spoken of in connection with the Democratic nomination for county superintendent of schools in Monroe. If she should enter the primaries, she will be the first woman candidate in that county for a county office.—West Virginia News.

CIVIL WAR LETTERS

Written by George W. Arbogast, of the Greenbank Company, 31st Virginia Infantry, Confederate States Army, to his wife, who is now Mrs. Ellen Brown, of Greenbank. The following letters are the last of the series furnished us by his son, W. W. Arbogast, and were written just prior to the battle of Spotsylvania. In which Mr. Arbogast was mortally wounded, on May 12, 1864.

Camp Near Spotsylvania Court House,
April 9, 1864.

My Own Dear Wife—

The Lord has saw fit to spare me through right smart danger in the last week. I should be thankful for his mercy and blessings, as His present kindness, I have written you a letter a few days since, but had no chance to send it to the P. O. The battle here commenced the 4th day of April. This day, came to the front on the 5th and done some little fighting. John Long was killed, and Geo. Arbogast wounded in Co. G.

The Yanks kept up such a surging scurrying that night that we could not sleep much. On the morning of the 6th the Yanks charged our breast works, came in about thirty or forty yards and we let volley in to them, and they lay down and we fought them about three quarters of an hour and our guns got so hot that we were ordered to slacken our fire. The Yanks took advantage of the time and run, and the Yanks started to yell and we let a volley into them. There were about 100 Yanks dead. James Hamilton was wounded on the leg, Charles Moore scalped on the head and Jas. Sholes had his arm broken, the bullet entered his side and since then he died. About dusk we charged the Yanks breastworks and laid to fall back about two hundred yards where we fortified that night, losing sleep again.

In this charge Mathias Moore was shot through the calf of the leg, Jas. Watless was wounded slightly, making six wounded and one killed in the Co. On the morning of the sixth we advanced and fortified and not being right threw them down, and built others. At dark our orders to move at eleven o'clock another night to rest. The 8th we marched all day, a great many gave out and some died of the effects.

April 9th today, we marched some and fortified. April 10th, I feel rested today am very well. Our Brig. Gen. Pogram is wounded also. Gen. Longstreet, Gen. Jones of the 25th Brig. was killed. The 25th were taken prisoners except sixty. Warwick may be glad he was not here. I saw Howard last night, he is well. He said he had heard from you a few days since. I have received but three letters from you yet. I will have to close as I have a chance to send this out. Write every week.

Kiss my babies,
Your devoted husband,
G. W. Arbogast.

In Camp, Orange County,
April 18, 1864.

My Dear Wife—

When I left home I thought I would write to you once a week or as near as I could. I have written three or four times, and have received but one letter. Have you forgotten me, I hope not. I have been putting writing off thinking I would get another letter, but I don't want to get too negligent. Ellen you must write to me often, once a week or answer what you get from me without too much delay. I love to hear from any of my dear friends, more especially my beloved one.

There is very little talk of going to the northwest at this time. It would not surprise me if we would try to go to Pennsylvania as soon as the weather settles, though there is no telling where we will go or what we will do.

This has been a cold, wet, backward spring here, too bad for military operations. I can see snow on the Blue Ridge and I am afraid you are out of wood or hay, but you must be contented while you have enough to eat and wear.

We are doing pretty well here, though the rations doesn't come regular, on account of the weather and the occupation of the cars by the troops. Sometimes we get one part of a meal a day, though generally have enough for two meals. We don't do much duty, go on picket on once in twelve days and stay on two days, on camp guard once in three weeks, cook, wash and carry wood near half a mile, I have gotten to making and baking very good bread, can cook very well. I wish you had some of the coffee that we draw here, and I had some rye and cream. When I was home I could not eat cornbread and coffee without cream but here we have it nearly all the time and it is first rate. Hunger is good sauce.

We can buy rice at $1.00 per lb. Beans, $2.50 per qt. and crackers at $5.00 per lb. is about all we can buy. Have you heard Croff say anything about getting any person to exchange places with me yet? I wish he could. I might be of some advantage to you, the time I would be at home. How is everything getting along, sheep, horses and calves? Have you got anything to eat yet? Can you get anything? Have the prices fallen any yet since the old money has been taken in? Buy all the grain you can get at any price and put it in as safe a place as possible. Geo. Sutton has a cow for sale, if you want to buy her. You can get the money of mother. I suppose. I expect we will draw our money the first of May, when I draw mine I will send it to you whenever I get a good chance.

How are my dear little Willie and Maggie getting along? Poor little things, I have forgotten how they look, would love to see them very much.

How are our dear old Mothers, hope they are well. And my dearest how are you? Would love to see you. I hope you are well. You must write to me as soon as you get this, give me all the news in general.

Your devoted and loving husband,
G. W. Arbogast.
